Social Studies	<input type="text"/>
Science	<input type="text"/>
Foreign Language	<input type="text"/>
Other AP/IB	<input type="text"/>

Of the grades in the chart above, how many are AP/IB?

How many full year AP/IB courses will you have completed from your 9th grade year until the end of your senior year (round up if needed). For example, AP Chemistry is a full-year (1 credit) course, while AP Economics is generally a half-year (.5 credit) course. If these were your only AP/IB courses, it would equal 1.5 courses, and so you would round up to 2.

Advice about the UGA Admission Process

Test Scores and UGA

At this time of year, I start looking back at what I wrote last year to see if there are any big issues that need repeating for a new group of ming seniors. One of the more prevalent issues is the question about test scores and score choice. As such, here is a copy of last year's post, with a little extra information at the end.

"Should I send my SAT/ACT to UGA now, or wait until I see how I did?" Fear not, because this question is a non-issue at UGA.

UGA's policy on test scores is that we only look at the highest sub-scores of the SAT and the ACT, also known as "super-scoring". This means that we take the highest Critical Reading, Math and Writing SAT scores from all your SAT tests to get your best overall combination, and your best ACT scores from each section to make the highest composite score.

The one thing we do not do is overlap the SAT and ACT (we will not take your ACT English of 34 and match it with your 740 Math SAT). But remember, UGA will only look at your best scores for the SAT and ACT, and if you take both the SAT and ACT, we will use whichever test has the strongest
